JACKSON, NOVEMBER 14, 15, 16

Write down on your schedule of important engagements the dates of November 14, 15, and 16, so that you will be sure to come to Jackson for the meeting of the Mississippi Library Association at that time!

As the time draws near for the annual meeting, it is a good time for each of us to review the work of the past year and think toward the pressing need for further accomplishment of the tasks before us and the almost impossibility of accomplishing them unless all of us work together.

We cannot be separate identities, each standing apart, waiting for someone else other than ourselves to further the cause of librarianship in Mississippi. We must become a closer unity, willing to work as a body. Progress cannot be made without everyone's assistance; and moral support is not enough, however fine and encouraging it may be, if it remains silent and inactive. It is at this annual meeting of all librarians that we meet to lay plans and work out methods of procedure. Jackson has been chosen as a meeting place because it is most accessible to everyone, and we hope to have everyone come.

Miss Julia Wright Merrill of the American Library Association is to be with us during the entire meeting, and we are very fortunate in having the opportunity of discussing our library problems with her. With certification and state aid paramount issues, we must have a very sincere and thorough understanding of where we are concerning these subjects. As you know, these two bills are being prepared for presentation to the State Legislature in 1942, and every library will be affected by the success or failure of their passage. Other states are making library progress through the benefits of these measures, and surely Mississippi cannot be willing to lag behind in furthering the cause of library service. If you do not understand the ramifications of these two subjects, please be with those who are thinking them out in Jackson on November 15th.

Prominent speakers will discuss the subjects with us on Friday morning, and tell us about the experiences in other states. The afternoon session will be given over largely to a panel discussion of problems in which all are invited to actively participate. If you are not sure of all the angles of either subject and the effect it will have on you, now is the time to help work out the details yourself. Miss Merrill will be the leader of the panel.

Miss Nora Beust, School Library Specialist with the Office of Education in Washington, has been invited to be with us at this meeting, especially on Saturday. Surely we need a specialist just now to help us with some of our problems. The year, 1940, has been a momentous one with some of the school libraries, for it has brought the enforcement of the standards of the Department of Education. New situations which have arisen may seem less difficult—less overwhelming—if thought out and talked over with others with similar problems or with some one who has already worked them out in like situations. Standards and their attainment will be one of the subjects included on the program Saturday morning.

Of course, we always think of the Book Dinner, which we have on Friday night, as being one of the important features of the meeting, both socially and intellectually. This year it will certainly be no less so. A well-known and outstanding author has been invited to be our guest speaker. We know you will want to be at this session to which we always look forward with anticipation. Other social features are being scheduled for the meeting and all of us know how pleasant a place Jackson can be to visit. There will also be free time, in which you can combine personal interests with professional.

Headquarters will be at the Robert E. Lee Hotel. Why don't you make your reservations now, so that we may know that you are planning to attend the meeting. Be sure to send your dues or bring them to your secretary-treasurer, Miss Emma Joe Alexander, Scooba. We want a full membership with every librarian in Mississippi a fully paid up member.

These are terrifying times, and all of us, especially those with like problems, need to hold together in an endeavor to further the cause of civilization as much as possible. Surely librarians have a very definite part to play in providing people with material to keep a sane outlook on life. The Association provides a mechanism for promoting common interests and for expressing professional opinion. The greater the number who belong to it, the more forceful it can work. There is an opportunity for librarians of small libraries and large ones, for school, college, public and W. P. A. to make a real contribution to the development of objectives which work toward adequate library service in the state of State of Mississippi.

Please come to Jackson for the meeting November 14, 15, and 16, and let us all plan together.

Anna M. Roberts, President

Mississippi Library Association

PUBLIC LIBRARY SERVICE FISCAL YEAR 1939

The total population of the state is 2,009,821; 341,669 urban and 1,668,152 rural. Total population within service area 828,250, or 41 percent; 530,926 rural, or 32 percent of the rural population and 297,324, or 86 percent of the urban population. A careful study of the tables in this bulletin shows that of the 828,250 within service area only 403,787 are served or 48 percent which means that 20 percent of the total population is actually receiving library service from the 37 libraries located in 31 counties. A further study shows that 21 percent of the population served are registered borrowers. The total circulation for the fiscal year 1939 was 1,343,823, an average of 3 volumes per capita. The total number of volumes, 394,167 or .9 of a volume per capita. The total support $74,295.78 or 18 cents per capita for those served. Of this amount $48,246.48 or 65 percent local taxation; $14,360.83 or 19 percent from county taxation and $11,688.47 or 16 percent from other sources. Nineteen of the established libraries employ WPA library workers for extension service, and clerical help in the headquarters library.

County library service: In order to understand the county service in Mississippi, it is necessary to give a more detailed outline of each county than can be given through statistics in the tables.

When the federal project began to operate in 1934 under FERA, there were only six counties in which library service was available to the rural area.

Coahoma County—The Carnegie Public Library, Clarksdale, contracts with the county for service. The total support from public funds is $16,600. WPA library workers are employed for work in the stations and to assist in the county headquarters.

Jones County—The city appropriates $1,200 to the Laurel Circulating Library for service to the city schools; the county board of supervisors appropriates $1,000 to the Laurel Circulating Library for service to the rural schools.

Lauderdale County—The Carnegie Public Library of Meridian contracts with the county for service both to schools and the community. The present support of the library from public funds is $5,437.00. WPA library workers are employed for work in stations and to assist in the county headquarters.

Washington County—The Greenville Public Library contracts with the county for service. The total support from public funds is $3,600. WPA workers are used for extension service.

Holmes County—By a special act of the legislature of 1928, the Holmes County Library with headquarters at Durant was organized. The movement was promoted by the woman's club of Durant. The present support from public funds is $1,200. The entire personnel is paid with WPA funds.

Claiborne County—The Harriette Person Memorial Library was organized with headquarters at Port Gibson by a special act of the legislature in 1926, to give service to the entire county. The total support at present is $600 from public funds.

When the statewide library project began to operate in 1935 the following counties received library service from the city library through cooperation with the project:

Leflore County—Greenwood Public Library. Present support from public funds is $2,375. WPA library workers assist in headquarters library and extension service in the county.

Madison County—The Canton Public Library was organized in November 1939 as a free public library. The present support from public funds is $870. All workers are employed by WPA except the head librarian. The library is kept open longer hours, clerical help is available, library workers are employed in the various stations in the county.

Monroe County—The Evans Memorial Library of Aberdeen contracts with the county for service. The total support from public funds is $1,400. WPA library workers are employed in the headquarters library to assist with clerical work, county division, and the various units in the county.

Warren County—The Vicksburg Public Library contracts with the county for service. The present support from public funds is $4,000. Service is given directly to the county borrowers at the headquarters library rather than from stations in the county. A small collection, provided largely by gifts, may be used for units in the county. WPA labor is employed for distribution to the county units.

Yazoo County—The library association of the Ricks Memorial Library administers the county fund of $300 for books to be used in the county. The county collection may be supplemented by the city collection. WPA library workers assist in the headquarters library, extension service, and clerical assistance.

The following county libraries have been organized under Senate Bill 166, Laws 1938:

Alcorn County and Grenada County. A detailed discussion of the service for 1939-1940 in these counties may be found in Library News, Vol. IV, No. 3.

Other counties which have taken initial steps in organizing a county circulating library under Senate Bill 166, Laws 1938 but have not yet secured adequate appropriations are: Nehoba County $300 for books, WPA labor; Quitman County $353.15, WPA labor except head librarian who serves part-time; Sunflower County, $600 for books, WPA labor; Union County, $300 for books, WPA labor; Oktibbeha County, $290 for books, WPA labor; Attala County, $224.92; WPA labor; and Lowndes County, $180, WPA labor.

The club libraries are libraries which are sponsored by various civic organizations. Even though the support was small and the collection very inadequate it was the idea of the club from the beginning of the program to give service to the rural area. The clubs have sponsored the county project with the supervisors of the county as co-sponsors. As a part of the sponsor's contribution the clubs have agreed to make the entire collection available to the rural area through WPA library workers. These libraries are located in Marion County, $240 for books; Lafayette County, $115 for books; Tunica County, $300 for books.

In addition to the counties listed above, the project is organizing and developing library service in 45 counties which have no permanent library service. Eight trained librarians are supervising this work which employs about 311 library workers. The total population of these counties is 994,066. Of this number 516,437, or 52 percent are actually served. The total number of volumes in the 45 counties 113,677 or .2 per capita for those served; total circulation 1,304,520 or 2 volumes per capita; registered borrowers 52,237 or 10 percent. The total support from local public funds for the fiscal year 1939 was $5,219.50; other sources $4,437.06, making a total of $9,656.56. The total amount spent for books $5,581.90; other expenses $4,074.66. Funds available for the state-wide project for 1939 were $279,227, of which ninety-five percent must be spent for labor on a relief status. $10,000 was allocated for books. The collection at state headquarters including the State Library Commission collection is 20,000 volumes.

Some of the outstanding work accomplished in 1940: Increased support from public funds included in the budget for the fiscal year 1941. The greatest amount—Harrison County $3,200 to pay for the services of a trained librarian and books; Hinds County $1,500 for books; Union County $1,250 for books; Grenada County $1,000 for books. The demonstrations in Alcorn County and Grenada County have made definite contributions toward formulating patterns of service adequate for rural counties. Plans drawn up for the operation of a regional demonstration including two counties—Hinds and Madison. Increased interest on the part of county superintendents of education, supervisors of elementary schools, civic organizations, local library committees, and other adult education agencies. Field visits since September show great improvement in technical organization and administration, housing, weeding of collections. There is a decided improvement in book selection and the method of buying, the reading level is improving slightly. Much more interest on the part of trustees in existing libraries is being shown in the state project. More direct supervision of trained librarians has made the project much more effective, as well as improved the conditions in a number of established libraries.

Summary: 37 permanent libraries located in 31 counties, 20 giving some type of service to the rural area, 3 counties give service to negroes: Coahoma, Lauderdale, and Monroe.

24 free public libraries, 9 subscription and association, 4 libraries are under the direction of various civic organizations, all work being done by WPA library workers.

64 counties have library service under the state project, 19 working with the permanent libraries, 45 the entire library service is available through WPA library workers.

The total service area of existing libraries prior to 1936, not including the cooperation of WPA, was 390,545. Through cooperation of WPA with existing libraries, and counties in which service was initiated by WPA recently organized as permanent libraries, the service area has increased 437,705. These figures added to the service area of the 45 counties make a total of 1,431,771 receiving some type of library service today which were without any library service in 1936. But there is another side of the story in that of the total population within service area 1,822,316, 96 percent of the total population only 920,224, or 45 percent are actually receiving some type of library service.

A study of the table below brings out another very important fact in that while the service area has increased greatly, the financial support has actually decreased. In 1937, the project was operating in 82 counties, employing 777 persons. The total support from public funds was $8,621.82 in the 66 counties not cooperating with existing libraries. In 1939 the project was operating in 64 counties, employing 420 persons. The total support from public funds in the 45 counties where there are no permanent libraries is $5,219.50. These facts as well as the facts brought out in the table below should be very significant to every librarian, citizen, and library trustee in this state.

The great need is funds for books. The funds available for the state project for 1940 are $412,027. There should be not less than $25,000 from local funds, in the counties where there are no permanent libraries for books to maintain the present status of service in existing libraries. This figure is arrived at on the basis of the present support of 18 cents per capita for those served by the existing libraries. The present number served in the 45 counties is 516,437. This at 18 cents per capita would be $92,958.66. Allowing one fourth for books would mean $23,239.66. In the opening of additional counties this formula should be used in determining the amount needed for books. In establishing a county library the Commission recommends at least .15 cents per capita. Funds should be available for trained librarian, books, and adequate means of distribution. Efforts were made in the 1940 legislature to secure state aid for books, also to increase the State Library Commission appropriation $6,000 for books. To secure the needed funds for books, there must be a sufficient demand made by the citizens on local governmental agencies and state senators and representatives. "Man is actively interested in an institution only when the goals he seeks are linked to it."

Personnel—There are at present 186 librarians employed in the state: 7 in state agencies, 11 state WPA project, 52 public libraries, 40 university, college and junior colleges, 76 in the high schools accredited by the Southern Association. The average salary of the librarians in the public library is $905.69; in senior colleges $1,413.13; in junior colleges $1,044.40; in high schools $1,038.39. Two librarians in state agencies, 11 in state WPA, 6 in public libraries, 31 in junior colleges and senior colleges, 23 in high schools—a total of 73—hold a library degree from a standard library school. In the fall of 1936 there were only 46 librarians who were graduates from a standard library school.

There were eleven students from Mississippi in library school during the scholastic year 1939-40, two of these were graduate students in library science. Six have positions in the state, two are out of the state, two there is no record of location, and one is not placed. Since 1936-37 forty-two Mississippi men and women have completed work for a library degree. Of this number 22 are located in Mississippi and two are employed in other work in the state.

W. P. A. LIBRARY EXTENSION PROJECT

Bethel Fite, State Supervisor

During the past year, there has been little change in the organization of the state-wide library extension project. It has progressed somewhat bumpily on its way as it has tried to be of service to Mississippians, but its objective has remained stable: to help develop permanent, adequate, state-wide library service.

As I have read the reports that have come to my desk, and observed the project as it operates in cities and towns, villages and rural communities of this state, I have come to certain conclusions. Since to discuss each would require more space than I am permitted, I shall merely list them, emphasizing that they are not unalterable convictions, but conclusions, to be modified, changed, and added to as our information and our experience with this agency grows.

1. That the project is an instrument useful in the south for equalizing educational opportunity in a region economically and therefore educationally disadvantaged.
2. That its demonstrations (as in Alcorn county) are important more for evolving methods of rural service and for establishing principles of coordinated service over large areas than for increasing local financial support.
3. That it can offer employment to young librarians, thereby training for the state a useful group of extension workers and at the same time improving the quality of the service offered by the project.
4. That its leadership must come from the librarians of the state who, as educators, understand their share in the responsibility of opening the channels of information for all citizens of this democracy.
